Comments: I have just been reading a lot of the messages, and how heartwarming it is to read of so many parents and children sharing interest in Audie, grandparents sharing interest with their grandchildren, teachers looking for information for their students, children, students looking for information on him because something sparked their interest, so many different types of people who admire this American Hero. It makes me feel good to see interest with loved ones shared like this. I would like to think there are a lot of unsung heroes out there. Hopefully the need will never arise for one to be found like with Audie. Hopefully there won't be another war that will take our young ones away. I remember the day I heard Audie died. I was standing on the step looking out over the field. The wind was blowing the tall grasses in a gentle motion and the sun and clouds were causing shadows and sunlight chasing across the field, and what a disbelieving and then such a sad feeling I felt. God Bless you, the military people who have fought so hard to keep our country free. Thanks for the wonderful site too Richard. It is truly a great website.

Comments: I just watched "To Hell and Back" and was intrigued by Audie Murphy. I had heard the name growing up but when I saw the movie I realized what everyone was talking about. He was a hero in his own right. It is unfortunate that his life had to end the way it did. Thank you Audie for being the hero that you were. We love you.

He was indeed a hero and a great patriot. Thanks for putting up this web page. We don't have enough heroes. Marion

Comments: I'm retired from USMC, born 1940, watched Audie's western movies, liked him, but thought there was something more about him. Later in life I learned of his ordeal during the war. I know I am a retired Marine, but somehow, I feel close to Audie, when things get rough for me, I think of what he went through, and how insignificant my problems really are. He is an inspiration to me and always will be. Where is he buried. I want to visit. I want to meet his sister also, can you give her my address? Bless You.

Comments: World War II produced some of the finest Americans who ever lived. As a soldier, Audie Murphy was such a man. Although in later life, he showed he had the same weaknesses and failings as the rest of us, when his country needed him, he was there. How many Americans can say that today, even about ourselves?

I'm just about 50 years old and was not born until a few years after World War II. My father's only brother was a U. S. Marine who was killed in combat, fighting for an obscure island in the Pacific. My father did not let us forget the sacrifice so many Americans made during that horrible period of human history. We should never forget that America saved the world from global dictatorship. The Soviet Union was ready to collapse as was England. American industrial power kept them supplied and in the war. Had they been forced to surrender, Japan and Germany would have linked up and literally encircled the world. Germany was working on atomic bombs and missiles while the Japanese were developing biological weapons. There is little doubt of what would have happened if they had prevailed. Many of today's history revisionists are blind to what World War II was all about. They see W.W.II from the vacuum of their own perspective and sell it to our children, propaganda masquerading as education. My children will never forget the sacrifices our fathers made for us. If we all make a commitment to tell others the truth and ask them to pass it on, then perhaps their memories will never die.

Thank you Audie Murphy. Thank you Uncle Johnny. Thank you to the hundreds of thousands of Americans who gave their lives. Thank you to the millions who were wounded. Thank you to the tens of millions who sacrificed and labored and fought to save the world.

Thank you, America!

Comments: (I live in Oklahoma City) Audie Murphy was one of my favorite heroes after I read about him and saw his picture on "Life cover" some time in the '50's. His life and heroism should never be forgotten by the American people. And I truly believe that his heroic life should be told, in full, in all American History books in all schools and universities....he was so important to the victory of the United States in WWII. Where would we be nowwithout couraeous soldiers such as he? Jeanne JohnsonApril 30,2000.

I also wonder if there is any relation because I was born in September of 1952 in Paterson, NJ. We are the same age and my dad's family (3rd generation )is from County Cork, Ireland. My mother's maiden name is Kerwin and my grandparent's are O'mara and Gillespie (same as the Congretional Medal of Honor Metal). I know I had relatives head to the west back at the time your dad was born. Please E-mail me at my friend's E-mail address provided. God Bless you and the Murphy clan, Jim Murphy

Audie took basic training at Camp Wolters, Texas, in my home town of Mineral Wells, Tx. There is a section in a Texas museum, and research center, devoted to Audie, in Hillsboro, Texas, 75 miles south of Dallas, on Hwy 35South, at the Hill College History Research Center. Very well done, along with another section devoted to the WWII service of Texans. There is also the older section devoted to Civil War research, its original purpose. See the website below for the Hill College History Research Center. <http://www.hill-college.cc.tx.us/crc/crc.htm> Hillsboro is a very friendly town, and full of historic homes, a historic courthouse, is near the hometown of Willie Nelson, in Abbot, Texas. I am very happy to see your site is keeping this portion of our history alive and available. He was truly a great American Hero. I have been to Arlington Cemetery many times, and each visit includes a stop at Audie's grave to say "Thank You." Unfortunately, many people today have no idea what WWII was all about. Patriotism was at one of the highest levels in our history. Everyone who could get into the military to fight for our country did so. Like Audie, they wouldn't take "NO" for an answer. Many today do not realize how close we came to losing WWII. It was the GI's like Audie who saved our country from the Japs and Nazis. I often wonder how many Americans like Audie are around today. Certainly our present draft dodging Coward-In-Chief is not one of them.

Comments: For over a year I studied to become a member of the U.S. Army's Sergeant Audie Murphy Club. I studied and memorized every detail I could find on this American hero. My hard work paid off and in October of 1996, I was inducted. I could never explain how proud I was the day Major General Pickler placed that medallion around my neck at Fort Carson, Colorado. Three years later I found myself as a Prisoner of War in Kosovo and Yugoslavia. During this time there were many days that I wanted to quit and not survive because of the awful conditions I was subjected to. But what kept me going in part, along with my faith in God, was the information I knew about Audie Murphy. His courage and strength was a real inspiration to me and I felt very lucky to have known about his life and strength in overcoming the odds. Thank you for keeping his memory and his legend alive with this website. Chris Stone

Secondly, He epitomized the Everyday Texas kid growing up in Rural Texas. He overcame by pure Grit and determination and conquered whatever he had to do..This was the Old Texan's way. And Again he grew up in the area that my older brothers did and the area where my dad was born..... But mostly, courage and leadership is Born in a person.... Heroes aren't made..they are born to their destiny.

I liked the photos, Audie's citation for the MOH. My favorite page was the visit to the battle site where Audie received the MOH. To find expended brass still lying on the ground that most likely was fired by Audie Murphy is way too cool! I will be sure to look for the postage stamps in his honor. Keep up the good work.- Don

I served in the military 1969-1971. He was still very much talked about in those days. When his body stayed overnight in Atlanta after the crash, My mother and I went to the funeral home to see the casket. I couldn't help but shed tears. So did my mother. We both signed the guest book at the funeral home. He was certainly one of my favorite people.Name: mike corbettWebsite:*Referred by: Word of MouthFrom: Salisbury, Maryland

Some do not rise to the ranks of some but, the freedom that is lived today is what really matters. The freedoms that everyday Americans take for granted. It is up to those that follow to keep the fires of freedom. In the hearts of all of those who have felt what this country is and what it has taken to keep it as it should be. With Honor!

I even stayed home from work to watch all of them. I have a lot of his movies, but they're hard to get on the market. Not all of them are printed. Any suggestion? I watch them each time they're on TV. Even if I've seen them before, he is a true legend to me, and I was sad that he died at such a young age. Another question, please answer this for me. Does he have any family, children, such as that? I know theres's sister's and brother's, but what about children. Let know where to buy more of his movies too.

I'm appreciative to those who have provided a great deal of interesting information about Audie Murphy here at the site. I find it disappointing that much of the recent interest in Mr. Murphy seems to date from the later 90's decade in lieu of the twenty years immediately following his untimely death. Everyone should remain aware that there exists several good published sources for information on Audie Murphy the American Man versus the American War Hero. Perhaps a closer look at what made the man could give you better insight into what made the hero.

My father faught in WWII in South-Europe at the age of 17, fourced by the nazi-regime. He didn't receive any medal and he told me that he and his comrades ran away from the attacking russians as fast as they could. He was lucky to survive. I think the intention to keep the memory of our forfathers and - mothers is a hounarable intention neither they have received medals or were popular persons. I never will forget my grandma. During the years of 1944 to 1946 she had to travel dozents and hundreds of miles by foot or by train to get coal, food or to exchange things with others to supply her family. She and the hole generation of those times should be remembered in every country and every mind. Never forget them.

I found yours, congratulations on a well presented site, which has focus, purpose and a sense of history, I was especially interested in a news clipping you have presented, which discussed the issue of school children being unaware of salient facts of history. It was not that the children were unintelligent, they had just never been exposed to areas of history which should be prominent in our educators thinking when setting a curriculum. This is not only sad, but disturbing, ignorant of our past, how will they, our emerging leaders tackle the future without making the same tragic errors that have already been made. Yes, the past is gone, but lets use it to make the future better for everyone, a sentiment I imagine the late Mr. Murphy would share

Audie Murphy may not have wrote the book on Army Values, ( Loyalty, Duty, Selfless Service, Honor, Integrity, & Professionalism ) but he sure lived up to them. Most people who grew up in that era had about the same beliefs & values. Today it's "I want it, give it to me NOW!", and "I'll do it when it's convenient for me" attitudes you see on main street USA every day. Thankfully not everyone lives by the new standard, but sadly the percentage is climbing.

After reading the first one, I could tell that he really put his heart and soul into his poetry. I also did not know he wrote lyrics for music. I'm not familiar with the songs he wrote, but would love to know where I might find some of them. I would like to find the words and music, but especially the words. My family met Mr. Murphy's wife Pamela many years ago, while Mr. Murphy was still living. My aunt and Mrs. Murphy have been close friends for many years. I am proud to have a copy of "To Hell and Back" signed by Mrs. Murphy. My brother has a copy signed by Mr. Murphy himself. Mr. Murphy was a true American hero, and I'm glad to see this webpage in his honor. He would be proud.

He also found funding for many of Audie Murphy's movies during that time. I was just a child, and met him only once that I remember. My father had some papers for him to sign and I went with him to his Audie Murphy's house. I remember that there were guns against a wall. When there backs were turned, I picked one up thinking it was a toy and pointed it. Audie said to my father, "Jack take that away from her, it is loaded". That is all that I remember, but it is something that I will never forget because it scared me. I do know that my father always spoke very highly of Audie Murphy. Best regards, Marla

Comments: I'm presently a police officer and a former U.S. Paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne Division. I truly believe that our nation's youth are no longer aware of our history and genuine heroes like Audie L. Murphy. The lack of their knowledge is due to our lack of "Leading the Way" and our failure to remind them that freedom has a price. I hope and pray that many years from now I hear mention, from the lips of our young, the name... Audie L. Murphy. Whenever I hear that name... I'll know our hard labor was not in vain, but fruitful. A speech Audie made, "What America Means to Me", he mentions a policeman's badge as one of his reasons to make such a simple, down to earth, and patriotic speech. Now as a police officer, even though he is gone, I will not fail him... because he did not fail me! Anyone having that particular speech... if you would be so kind to send it via e-mail... it would be greatly appreciated.

Later I recalled Audie's exploits when I returned to military life (USAF) and retired with 24 years active service. Now that I found this site will bring my grandsons back to it so they can learn about a "true" American hero.

Audie Murphy, his life and his accomplishments, serves as a beacon for all of us who have become cynical in this age of spin doctors, fast fixes and political corruption. His accomplishments, through heroism, stand alone. They endure without need of "Spin" or hype. In our public schools, a lot of time (and money) is spent trying to help our kids "feel" good about themselves. Perhaps, as all of us instinctively know, the best way to feel good about ourselves is to do something for others. Mr. Murphy's life would certainly provide a textbook example of the truth of such a philosophy. Hopefully, there will come a day when Audie Murphy's saga of honor and heroism will be standard reading material in our schools. In my opinion, this story deserves its place with those of other American heroes such as John Paul Jones, Nathan Hale, Sgt. York and others. The value

Thank you very much for this wonderful site. I agree totally with the other guests his picture should be on a postage stamp. I mentioned his name to a friend the next day and she had never heard of him. This hero must be made more public for all generations.

He will be joining the 3rd Infantry Division Mechanized which is the Marne Unit and the same unit that Audie Murphy was in during the war. The symbol on the side of his helmet in the movie To Hell and Back is the unit symbol that my son will wear. I'm a Viet-Nam vet and the son of a World War II Vet and I grew up knowing fully who Audie Murphy was. I'm proud to have my son entering the same unit that such a great soldier as Audie Murphy served in. I printed some of the material in this great web site to share with my son. Keep up the good work. This man was such a hero to our country. Today we need some hero's such as Audie Murphy.

One could not find a more dedicated, loyal and courageous man. His movies do continue to play but primarily "To Hell and Back." It's not only a testament and tribute to Audie Murphy but to all soldiers of all wars who fought and sacrificed to ensure the freedoms we enjoy today. From one vet to another, thanks Audie.
