Comments: I have just revisted this site and think it is absolutely the best memoral for one of the greatest heros our nation has ever produced. Something bothered me though, in scanning some of the other entires I was amazed at how many people feel there are no more American heros. There are, unfortunately our children look to people in sports and entertainmen for heros. But there were a lot of heros after Audie Murphy, maybe they didn't do as much as he did, or in the way he did it, but they performed in the same spirit and some more than once. As a Vietnam vet I know that there were many heros besides MOH winners and many heros who were never honored by any medal. Please America, don't believe there are no more American heros out there, there are, some of them haven't even been born yet. As long as we maintain our love of America, our flag and our American Values, there will be heros.

Comments: I am proud and honored to be a member of the Sergeant Audie Murphy Club. (I was recently inducted on the 26th of January.) I, too, was told that I was not cut out for military service because of my size (this came from my teachers, not my recruiter). At the time of my enlistment, I was 5'6" tall and 115 pounds. I can not think of any other American that I would want to emulate more than Audie Murphy. He was truly a legend in his own time, and I am going to ensure that he will be a legend in my children's children's time. Audie may be gone, but he will never be forgotten!!

Comments: My parents loved Audie Murphy and went to see as many of his movies. It's sad to say that in France, in those days, we did not know much about the American actors and actresses. So we were quite surprised to learn more about his life and all he had achieved. It's a real pleasure to know that people like you are wanting to keep his memories alive. Thank you so much! By the way I know of a stamp which is supposed to come out soon. Would you by any chance know when? Again Thank very much and God bless. Laurence.

I first thought he was a great soldier but learned only after I saw the movie what a fabulous actor he was. We all have missed a lot from his passing but his inspiration surely will lead many young people down a path they might not have followed. Thank you, Richard, for a wonderful find on the net!!

Comments: Like Audie Murphy, I grew up in a poor family. Audie was my inspiration to join the Army. He was also my role model as a soldier. I was awarded the Silver Star, Bronze Star w/olc, 16 Air Medals, Meritorious Service Medal w/olc and the Vietnam Cross of Gallantry, during my three tours in Vietnam. I'm not saying this to bragg on myself. I'm saying it because when the situation got hot and heavy and I got scared I remembered Audie Murphy and took heart. Audie Murphy's exploits should be taught to every young soldier that enters the Army.

I was researching for the 79Th Inf Div.313th Inf Div and ran across this web page. I haven't found to much information on these units and wondering if you could direct me to some links. I have just about run out of options, even tho I have found some documentations. You have a very informative web page dedicated to the greatest hero a young kid could have. Comments: I am retired military and had the honor of representing the Army at the funeral of a WWII Medal of Honor recipient. They are very special Americans whose heroic exploits have preserved this nation, but whose contribution are too soon forgotten by a nation at peril every day Before Memorial Day each year, I speak to 20 or so young Army trainees at the Fort Benning Cemetery. When they finish decorating the graves with our flag,I speak to them about the symbolism and importance of that banner to those asleep below. We gather around the grave of another great American, Army Specialist Fourth Class, Donald R. Johnston, Medal of Honor, Vietnam. The young trainees are in their first week of basic training and come from the Donald R. Johnston Reception Center at Fort Benning. I had suggested the center be named in his honor 16 years ago, and that his gravesite be decorated by trainees from the center each year as a remembrance and inspiration for young soldiers on that special day.I read Johnston's MOH Citation, and present each with a copy along with a polaroid picture of each man placing the flag on the grave. One senses that it has a special effect on them and was like no other detail they will ever experience in their career.

I was IN LOVE with Audie Murphy when I was that little girl--he was so handsome and it was easy to tell how genuinely kind he was. I especially loved his voice--that soft Texas accent. He displayed Bravery, Leadership, Determination, and all-around heroism. I first found out about him when I saw a movie about him on the History Channel. I also went to his grave site at Arlington. My entire life revolves around World War II. I love studying about it, watching movies about it, anything. But I think it's a shame there isn't a memorial for World War II. And that Audie Murphy's grave doesn't give the proper recognition to America's greatest War hero. Daniel Udelson, 13 yrs. old, Atlanta, Georgia

Comments: In an age when the president of the United States is a draft dodger, the sacrifice and herosim of Audey Murphy is indeed impressive. He came out of the people and served his country. I took my kids to Arlington National Cemetary. One of the things I wanted to see was the grave site of 2nd Lt. Murphy. I was rather surprised to see that he was buried just like any other dogface, close to the amptitheatre. Only some flags to show where his final resting place is. I stood there with my kids and told them all about Audie Murphy and about all the men and women who gave so much to this wonderful country. One man, wounded, on a burning tank, turning back a german tank advance and killing 50 germans. When this country needs its extraordinary men, people like Audie Murphy come forward and save the nation. I am pleased that we are nearly at the end of the embarassing 8 years of the Clinton draft dodging, selfish and humiliating adminstration. People like Senator McCain and Lt. Murphy surely inspire me and I hope by my telling them about these great men, also inspired my children. I was born in 1949, but I served in the Navy during the Vietnam War. I know Lt. Murphy is gone but it is nice to be able to write these words of tribute to his memory. Why can't Arlington Cemetary make a bigger monument to Lt. Murphy?

Comments: I come from Scotland and I run the Elvis Presley fan club, and I am also in-to old movies and I think Audie Murphy is really good in the films. My son who is 12 years old was asked to pick a famous person that has passed on and if he could bring them back for 2 hours to ask them about their life he surprised his teacher by saying Audie Murphy, he heard me telling my wife about Audie's medals and thought this would make a good subject and he has since become really interested in Audie's life.

During the weekend of the dedication I was privileged enough to meet three of the heroes whose names are etched in the glass of the monument. I just wish that I could have met Audie Murphy. I touch his name each and every time I go to the monument. (U.S. Army Brat 1972-1990)

I wish to thank Terry for establishing the research foundation. I enjoy reading about the personal Murphy--his years growing up in Texas and those in service. My father was in the navy during WWII but never wanted to discuss it. He passed away 15 years ago and it is very hard to find anyone who knew him while he was in service. Reading about Mr. Murphy's war experiences help me to feel closer to my father. Thank you Terry. Your father seems to have been someone I wish I could have met.

Comments: Although I disagree much with the reasons for war and believe they are manipulated into existence by a global elite I don't question the bravery and courage men like Audie Murphy displayed fighting and often dying for what they believed in. I hope to pay back all the men and women that have served in war (including my grandfathers and father) by making the Congressional Medal of Honor Society website the best tribute I can possibly give to their memory and purpose. This is a great site in terms of both aesthetics and content. It is a great site to emulate in my attempts to also honor those who have done good. To Truth, Conviction, and Goodness

Comments: Audie Murphy has always been one of my heros. He is a true hero. A true to life hero, like Audie doesn't have to put on a big front and brag about what he has done. Everyone knows Audie was a quiet spoken, common boy, who didn't have to seek recognition. Anyone doesn't know if he or she is a hero or not untill the time comes to show their true colors. God bless you Audie. True Americans will never forget you. Audie happens to be my son in law's 2nd cousin.

That is the fact that no matter how many times he was told he "couldn't cut it", or was laughed at because of his size, it did not phase him. And, when he outclassed everyone who doubted him, he did not rub it their face or develop an arrogant attitude with anyone. I have not read any of the books about Audie, or seen any of his other movies. However, my impression of him is that he had the utmost integrity and a focused desire to persevere against any odds.

Comments: Your web page is truly an inspiration to all who served, and those who enjoy their freedom. My interest was tweaked when I came upon the name of 'Audie Murphy,' and it set off some long memorable visions of my past. As a former Army Sergeant who served in Murphy's old unit, Co.B 1st Bn, 15th Inf, 3rd Infantry Division, (1973-1976) at Harvey Barracks, in Kitzingen, Germany (FDRG)with USAEUR, I recall the proud tradition that Murphy's portrait and legacy invoked, and the reputation this unit portrayed. I'm not sure many of us (18 year olds at the time) fully understood how fortunate we were to have been selected for this unit. Murphy' Bravo Company had a saying that everybody acknowledged, it was the "Can Do" spirit. Something that stared every soldier in the eye upon entering the barracks of Murphy's old company, and something that was printed above every doorway throughout the former SS- three story barracks of the (Rock of the Marne) Marne. I will forever cherish those memories as 'gems and jewels' of my past, and will always be proud to admit my service there. I hope more of my former comrades read this and support the 'Murphy Stamp' idea. In closing, I just wanted to say thanks for your exceptional efforts here.

Comments: Hi! I'm a big fan of Audie Murphy. He was a wonderful actor and a wonderful man. He contributed so much to his country. Not only in movies, but fighting for his country in WWII. I have a club on Yahoo dedicated to him. It's called Awesome Audie Murphy. I hope you'll check it out and maybe join. Thank you.

Comments: I found this to be a wonderful web site. I feel that this coutry (USA)does not have many good role models, and we need to bring back some from the past. And this is one of the best. Russell J. Ericksomoen
